

Dr. Charlie R. Goodman

Biography synopsis

Dr. Goodman currently serves as President of Clear Creek Baptist Bible College. In the past, he has served as professor of theology and the director of graduate studies at Clear Creek, and he is also the former dean of students of the college. Moreover, He served in pastoral ministry for twenty-three years, pastoring churches in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia. He holds an undergraduate degree from Clear Creek Baptist Bible College—as well as four master's degrees and a doctoral degree in theology and apologetics. In total Dr. Goodman has studied at seven institutions of higher learning. As a professor, Dr. Goodman loves seeing students grow and flourish in ministry. He challenges them to forge their theology in the furnace of Holy Scripture, and he also implores them to realize that biblical higher education is a spiritual journey, not simply an academic pursuit.

Charlie is married to his high school sweetheart, Rhonda Goodman, and is the proud father of one daughter, Taylor Goodman. Charlie also founded On Target Sportsman's Ministries, a ministry that existed to present outdoorsmen with the Gospel. Charlie authored the devotional content in the Waterproof Bible Sportsman's edition and co-authored eight volumes of the Sportsman's Seasons, a Bible study for outdoorsmen. He is currently working on a pastoral ministry book. Dr. Goodman is a lifelong outdoorsman who enjoys hunting, fishing, hiking, and golf. However, his favorite pastime is traveling and spending time with his family.
